ASSISTANT/ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR, ELEMENTARY EDUCATION, SPECIAL EDUCATION/DISABILITY STUDIES

The Education Studies Department of Skidmore College, a selective liberal arts college in Saratoga Springs, New York, invites applications for a full-time, tenure track position, beginning September 2022.

Premised on a constructivist approach to teaching and learning, faculty in the Education Studies Department prepare students for initial certification in New York State, grades 1-6. In addition, the Department’s on-campus lab school, the Early Childhood Center, provides a resource for teaching and research.

Education:

A Ph.D. or Ed.D. in education or a related field with expertise in inclusive education or disability studies in connection to the elementary school context is required.

Experience:

Candidate must possess a strong commitment to undergraduate teacher education within a liberal arts context, teaching experience at the college and/or elementary school level, and the experience or ability to work with students from diverse backgrounds. Skidmore is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through their research, teaching, and service. In the letter of application, please include how your teaching, research and/or service experiences would contribute to the college’s goal of building a diverse and inclusive educational environment.

The teaching load for this position is 18 credits (typically 5 courses) each academic year, including coursework related to special education required for elementary teacher certification. New course development opportunities include those that would serve the interdisciplinary Scribner Seminar for the First Year Experience and the general education Bridge Experience courses focused on power and justice.

Candidates wishing to be considered at rank as Associate Professor will demonstrate a successful teaching and scholarly record. Preferred qualifications include higher education leadership experience and knowledge of teacher education program accreditation.

Review of applications will begin on January 3, 2022.

Questions can be directed to the search committee chair, Hope Casto at hcasto@skidmore.edu.

Required documents needed to apply:

- On-line application
- Cover Letter - please include how your teaching, research and/or service experiences would contribute to the college’s goal of building a diverse and inclusive educational environment.
