

Regina L. Suriel, Ph.D. is an Associate Professor at Valdosta State University. A previous bilingual high school science teacher in New York City's multicultural schools, Dr. Suriel advocates for socially just science education for all students, especially Latinx. Her research focuses on critically conscious Latinx faculty mentoring, sociotransformative teacher education and science curriculum. Dr. Suriel is the founder of the Latinx Research Interest Group (LaRIG) and founding member and past program committee chair for the Science Educators for Equity, Diversity, and Social Justice (SEEDS). She also serves as an editorial board member for the Journal of Science Teacher Education and the Journal of Multicultural Affairs.
