Date: March 27, 2023

Time: 12:00 – 4:00 Eastern Time

Who: All education students are welcome (undergraduate and graduate)!

Registration fee: $35, to register go to <https://ate1.org/event-4973727>

Theme: *Our Professional Journeys: Navigating Roles, Research, Relationships, and Responsibilities

The Association of Teacher Educators (ATE) Preservice Teacher Strand is a wonderful opportunity for students! Individuals network, share experiences, interact, and learn from nationally recognized educational researchers, teachers, and leaders. Preservice teachers will have the opportunity to learn about critical strategies and techniques that will enhance their likelihood for success as new teachers. Presentations are high-energy sessions that are research-driven and reality-based. The 2023 ATE preservice strand will be an online event as part of the ATE 2023 Annual Meeting to be held March 25th - 29th, 2023. In addition, as a way of helping the community, ATE has approved a special rate of only $35.00 for students who participate in this event.

Reasons to Attend:

- Learn how to Make Your Teaching Come Alive during stressful times with motivation and humor
- Investigate A Taste of Kagan with Total Student Engagement Approaches
- Discover critical information regarding Instructional Strategies and Management Techniques
- Interact with Nationally Recognized educational researchers, teachers, and leaders
- Learn about effective Student Engagement Techniques
- Examine how Data Based Decisions promote student learning
- Discover how to best Differentiate Instruction for ALL learners
- Learn about innovative approaches regarding Quality Education and Shaping the Future
- And much, much, more!

Please consider conveying our invitation to your students to be part of this educational and networking opportunity as well as sharing this invitation with others that may help by encouraging students to participate. Students will not want to miss this opportunity. Thank you for your help and consideration. Ed
